To whom it may concern:

Stormie Sheldon was my singer/speaker at our recent Women's Retreat. She sang with a precious anointing, ministering with transparency and hope for the hurting woman. Her theme: "God's Diamond in the Rough" using the power point and illustrations of her husbands knowledge of gems was a wonderful visual of what God is doing in our lives.

She attracted many younger women to the retreat that I have not had in the past. She captured every heart as she shared her past and gave encouragement to each one. The altars were filled after each session.

She has a sweet spirit with a tenderness that is refreshing. She is easy to work with and is open to suggestions.

Women were touched and changed by her honesty and was made aware of the fact what they are valuable and can go on with their lives in confidence knowing God can redeem and use them for His glory.

I highly recommend this humble servant to you and know she will minister to all who come.
